Title:	Dozens of people fell ill after eating Prasad, got admitted in district Khagaria, Bihar
Action By CSU, IDSP –NCDC	Information communicated to DSU – Khagaria, SSU- Bihar

More than 30 people fell ill after eating prasad in Khagaria district of Bihar, who have been admitted to the hospital. In which women and children are also included. The sick persons were taken by ambulance to Sadar Hospital, where their condition is stable. As soon as the news of the matter was received, District Collector Dr Alok Rajan Ghosh reached Sadar Hospital and inquired about the well being of the sick persons.

The Collector gave many instructions to the doctors and the hospital management for the treatment of the sick. According to the family members of the ailing persons, Bhagwan Satyanarayan Puja was organized at Prakash Sharma's house in Ward No.11 of Saidpur village, in which the people of the neighborhood participated. After the same worship, people ate prasad, after which their health deteriorated. Many people got sick at once. After increasing the number of patients, the people of the village were taken to the hospital by 3 ambulances.

The collector reached the hospital and met the sick and told it to be a case of food poisoning. He said, 30 to 32 people have fallen ill after eating the prasad of the puja. At present, 27 to 28 persons have been admitted to Sadar Hospital and their figure may increase. The situation is under control. Everyone is having diarrhea and vomiting.
